

A Living Legacy and a Commitment to Action

The “Never Again is Now” movement, through the “Our 6 Million” initiative, turns the commandment of זכור into a living, active commitment. Each candle lit, every word of Torah studied, and each conversation held, is a step towards a future informed by the lessons of the past, embodying justice, compassion, and tolerance.

Points to Ponder

How does “Never Again is Now” resonate with our understanding of historical memory and current responsibilities?

In what ways can lighting a candle in the “Our 6 Million” initiative be more than a symbolic gesture?

How does the October 7 massacre shape your view of anti-Semitism and hate crimes today?

Reflect on זכור (Zachor). How does it extend beyond remembering to include action?

How can “Never Again is Now” be applied in daily life? What specific actions can it inspire?

Consider the role of physical symbols like the “Our 6 Million” candles in maintaining memory. How can these symbols be effectively utilized in educational and communal settings?
